

ENVS 19-Natural History of Reptiles and Amphibians

Winter 2019 Quarter, Tuesdays 1:30-4:30pm (3 Units)

Instructor: Sean B. Reilly

Are you interested in learning more about the biology of salamanders, frogs, caecilians, lizards, snakes, crocodilians, and turtles? Learn about this diverse and fascinating groups of animals in the lab and in the field. The class will meet in the Norris Center for Natural History. Topics include:

- Natural History
- Ecology
- Behavior
- Systematics
- Morphology
- Evolution
- Reproduction
- Conservation

We will venture into the field multiple times in the Santa Cruz area. The class will culminate with a trip to Angelo UC Reserve in Mendocino County from March 9th -12th.

Acceptance to this class requires filling out an application/questionnaire. Please fill out the form as soon as possible.

